Challenges from local groups

1. Growing demand = more space required
2. Low availability of regular out-of-hours meeting rooms
3. Do not have a 'home base'
4. Men's Shed has limited capacity to share with other groups
5. Safe and secure spaces, especially for youth
6. Acknowledge that some groups may not be suitable for colocation together

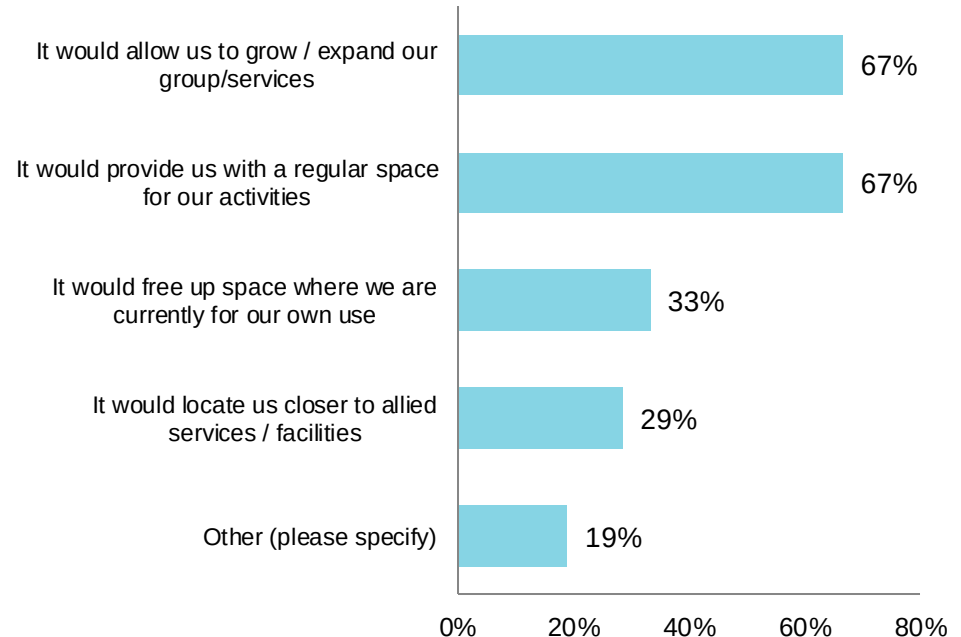

Why are groups interested in relocating?

Why are groups interested in relocating?

We would love the chance to alleviate the space used in our homes to offer hampers. We also seek better security by operating from a local building. We'd also love to have meetings with our volunteers on a monthly basis and committee meetings as well. Angels Mission

We need a single, affordable location to operate youth sections from with sufficient storage for the equipment to support our program. Ellenbrook Scout Group

... so we can have a common place for every community organisation to come together, working towards the betterment of our community in a collective manner. Ellenbrook Punjabi Council

Key findings and other insights

Local community groups within Ellenbrook are growing and thus need alternative space options for the various activities and events they offer.

The future community hub will require both functional service spaces and social spaces to take advantage of the desire for community to connect with one another.

Storage is an easy win to attract prospective user groups to the new Community Hub.

Outdoor spaces are likely to be an integral part of the function of places and social fabric of the community hub

There is an opportunity for the City and community to collaboratively inject heart and soul into the new facility.
